Facility Introduction

- The NSLS facility provides essential scientific tools for about 2200 scientists per year who conduct about 1200 experiments per year. These users come from approximately 400 academic, industrial, and government institutions. The myriad research programs of this large user community produce close to 1000 publications per year.
- The User Administration Office is responsible for researching publications by our users and reporting same. The Communications Manager and staff prepare publications that highlight user research, news, and events.

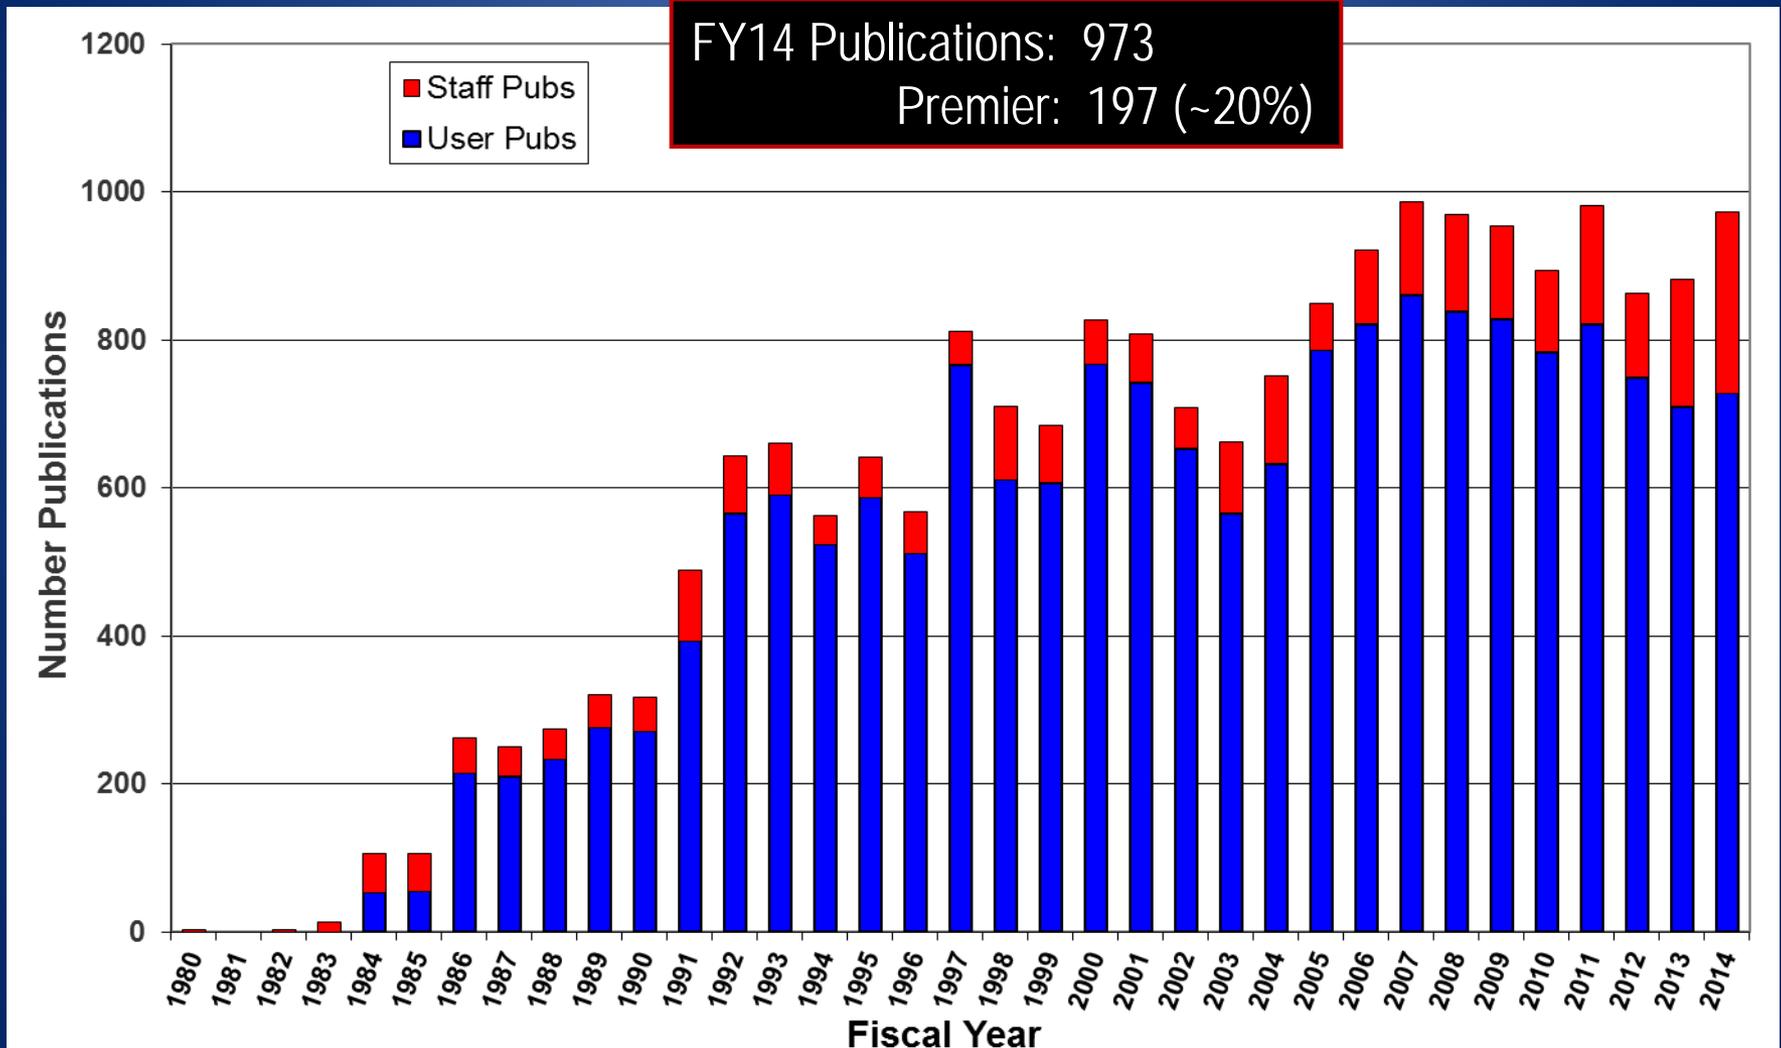

What we do well

- Call for publications
- Publication Database
 - Industrial Affiliation
 - Staff Publication
 - Journal Cover
 - Duplicate and Incomplete citations

NSLS Publications by Users and NSLS Staff

Challenges

- Publication Searches
- Searches require significant time and effort
- Online publications
- Capturing industrial collaborations
